Bling your ride

Dear Parents & Carers,

We have had another fantastic week which was kicked off with the Ridiculous Rhyme show. The children also loved the snow on Thursday!

Thank you to everyone who joined us for our Hiltingbury Hub sessions on emotional regulation on Thursday, we hope this was useful and will send out any resources used for all to be able to access. A big thank you to our ELSAs Mrs Jones and Mrs Rimmer for running this session.

We have had a range of new photos and a promotional video (on our website) to support our new prospectus and provide prospective parents with further insight into our school. Please see some of the photos below.

We are also looking forward to the Bling Your Ride competition next Wednesday (details sent out earlier today).

Ridiculous Rhyme Show

The children absolutely loved the Ridiculous Rhyme Show on Monday this week. It was a wonderful fun way to look at rhyming words and the children have continued this learning back in their classrooms. Thank you to everyone who contributed to this show.

Book Fair

We are really looking forward to hosting our book fair at the end of this month on 28th, 29th November and 2nd December. This will be in the library after school, the children will get a chance to browse the book fair during the school day. This is a great opportunity to purchase some new books and also raises funds for the school that we can invest into more books including books for our reading raffle prizes.
